The Use of Company's Name on Letters, Documents, Signboards or Advertisements

The Ministry of Commerce (“MOC”) and the Ministry of Tourism (“MOT”) have issued the Joint Prakas No. 257 MOC.CRD.PrK dated 12 September 2019 on the use of company's name on letters, documents, signboards or public advertisements (“Joint-Prakas”).

According to the Joint-Prakas, to ensure public order and proper control over the use of names of commercial enterprises, registered companies and businessmen must only use their names that are registered in the Commercial Register of the MOC in the course of conducting their approved business activities. The use of names includes the display of company names on any letters, documents, signboards and any electronic signs for display or public advertisements in the territory of the Kingdom of Cambodia.

The use of company name should also comply with the following requirements:

- The name in Khmer must be displayed above the company name that is written in another language, with a size that is two times larger than that name in another language; and
- Any translation of names from one language to another is prohibited. For example, if the original name of a company is in English language, the name in Khmer must be written according to the pronunciation of that name, but it cannot be translated from English to Khmer language.
